Hopscotch Montessori SCHOOL

We approached the choice of pedagogy and methods of early development from the perspectives of both professionals and parents to reinvent education, creating a place where children are eager to discover the world around them and find their unique place in it.

We help every child identify their talents and interests by embracing their curiosity and joy.

The Montessori Method is based on the principles of comprehensive child development, which considers the prepared environment, the child's psychological and physical health as essential for installing an interest in education.

Being comfortable in their surrounding environment allows for the further development of emotional intelligence, thinking and leadership skills that are necessary for a child to embrace.
