Sensor Festival 2022

-Technical manager for the construction of shop and gallery area

The breathtaking site at an altitude of 1,711 metres is an hour's drive from the Armenian capital Yerevan. The colossal 54-metre telescope, built in the era of science-fiction romanticism, is named after Paris Gerouni, an Armenian radiophysicist and engineer who supervised its construction in the early 1980s.

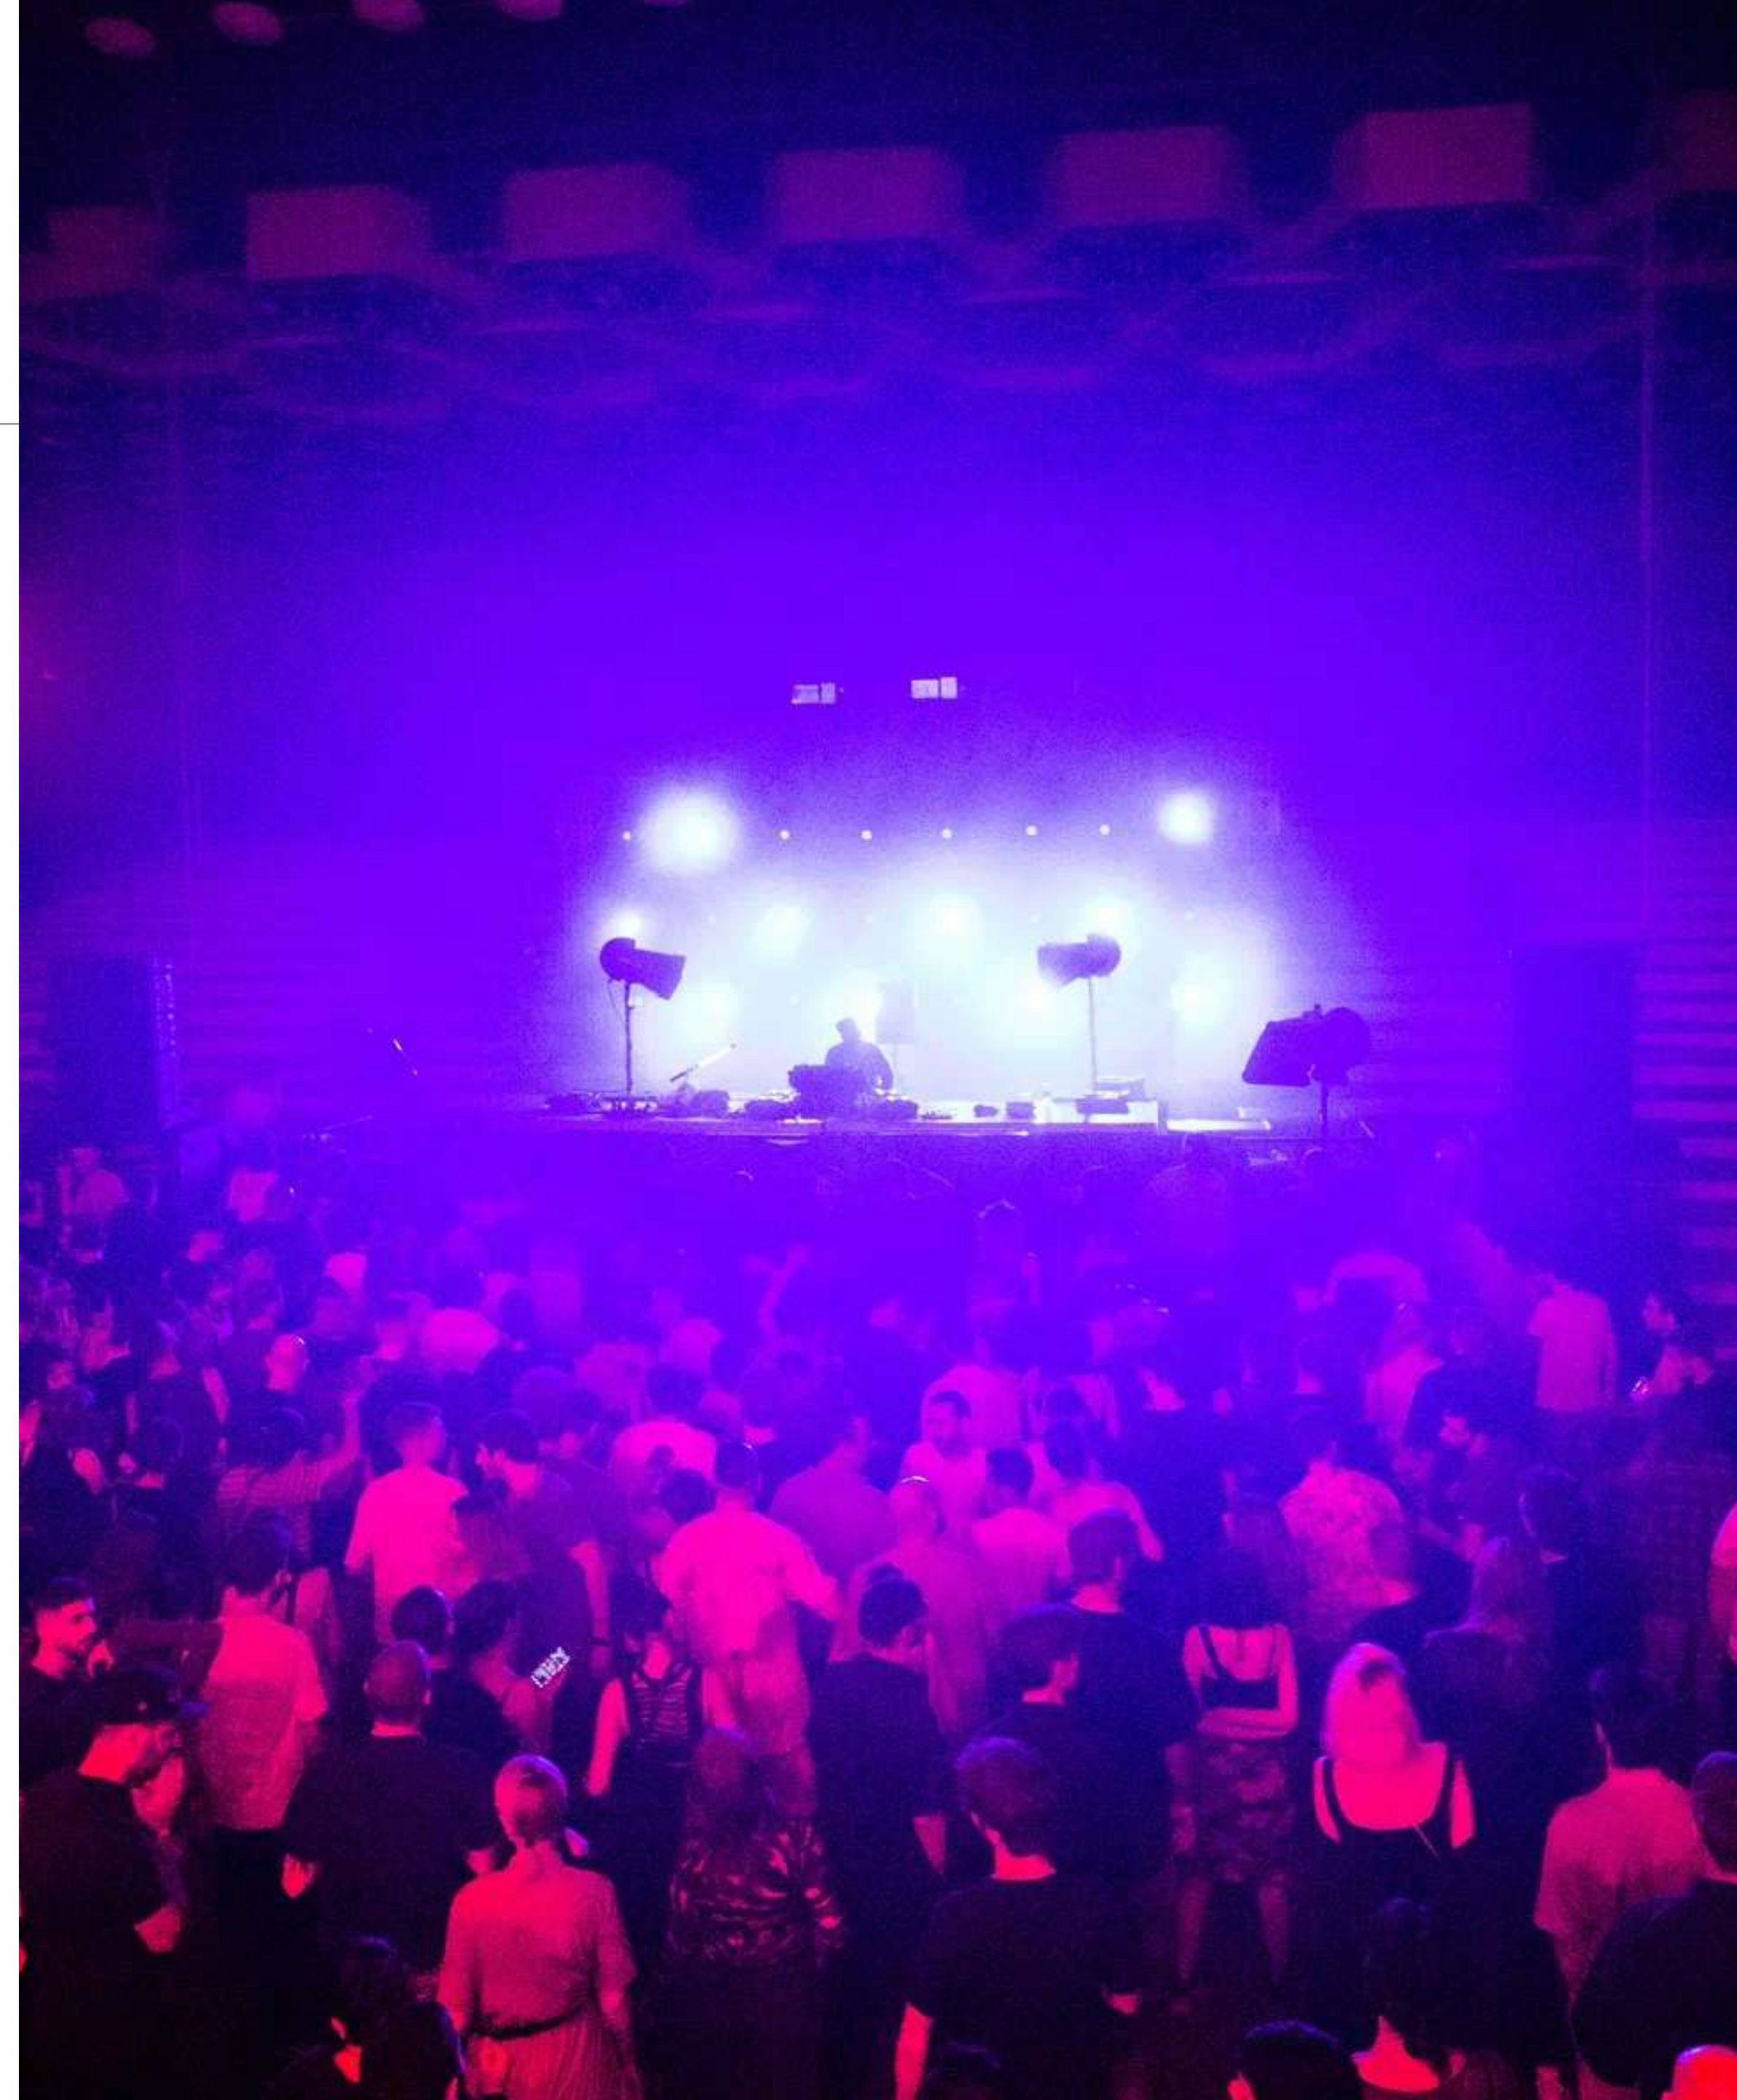

At Sensor Festival, I managed the creation of a retail outlet with festival merchandise. The challenges included selecting a location and optimising construction costs. We successfully set up the shop with minimal costs and in the shortest possible time, providing convenience for visitors and access to unique festival merchandise.

At Sensor Festival I also organised the creation of the gallery and planned the exhibition. My work involved collaborating with artists and craftsmen, as well as carefully managing deadlines, which was an extremely important aspect of the project. We successfully presented an art exhibition thanks to this work

MOCT Yerevan 2022-2023

- Project Manager
- Financial Manager

MOCT YEREVAN is a promotional band organising events in Yerevan with quality techno music. Their parties are characterised by high level of sound, unique decorations and interesting lighting effects, creating a unique atmosphere for true connoisseurs of techno music.

As part of the MOCT project, I fulfilled the role of project manager. My responsibilities included the following:

Staff management: Organising and coordinating the work of all staff including bartenders, technicians and other staff to ensure the smooth running of the events.

Technical Supervision: Ensuring that technical equipment, including sound and lighting equipment, is properly set up and working properly.

Timeline adherence: Strictly supervising the event preparations to make sure everything is ready to start at the set time.

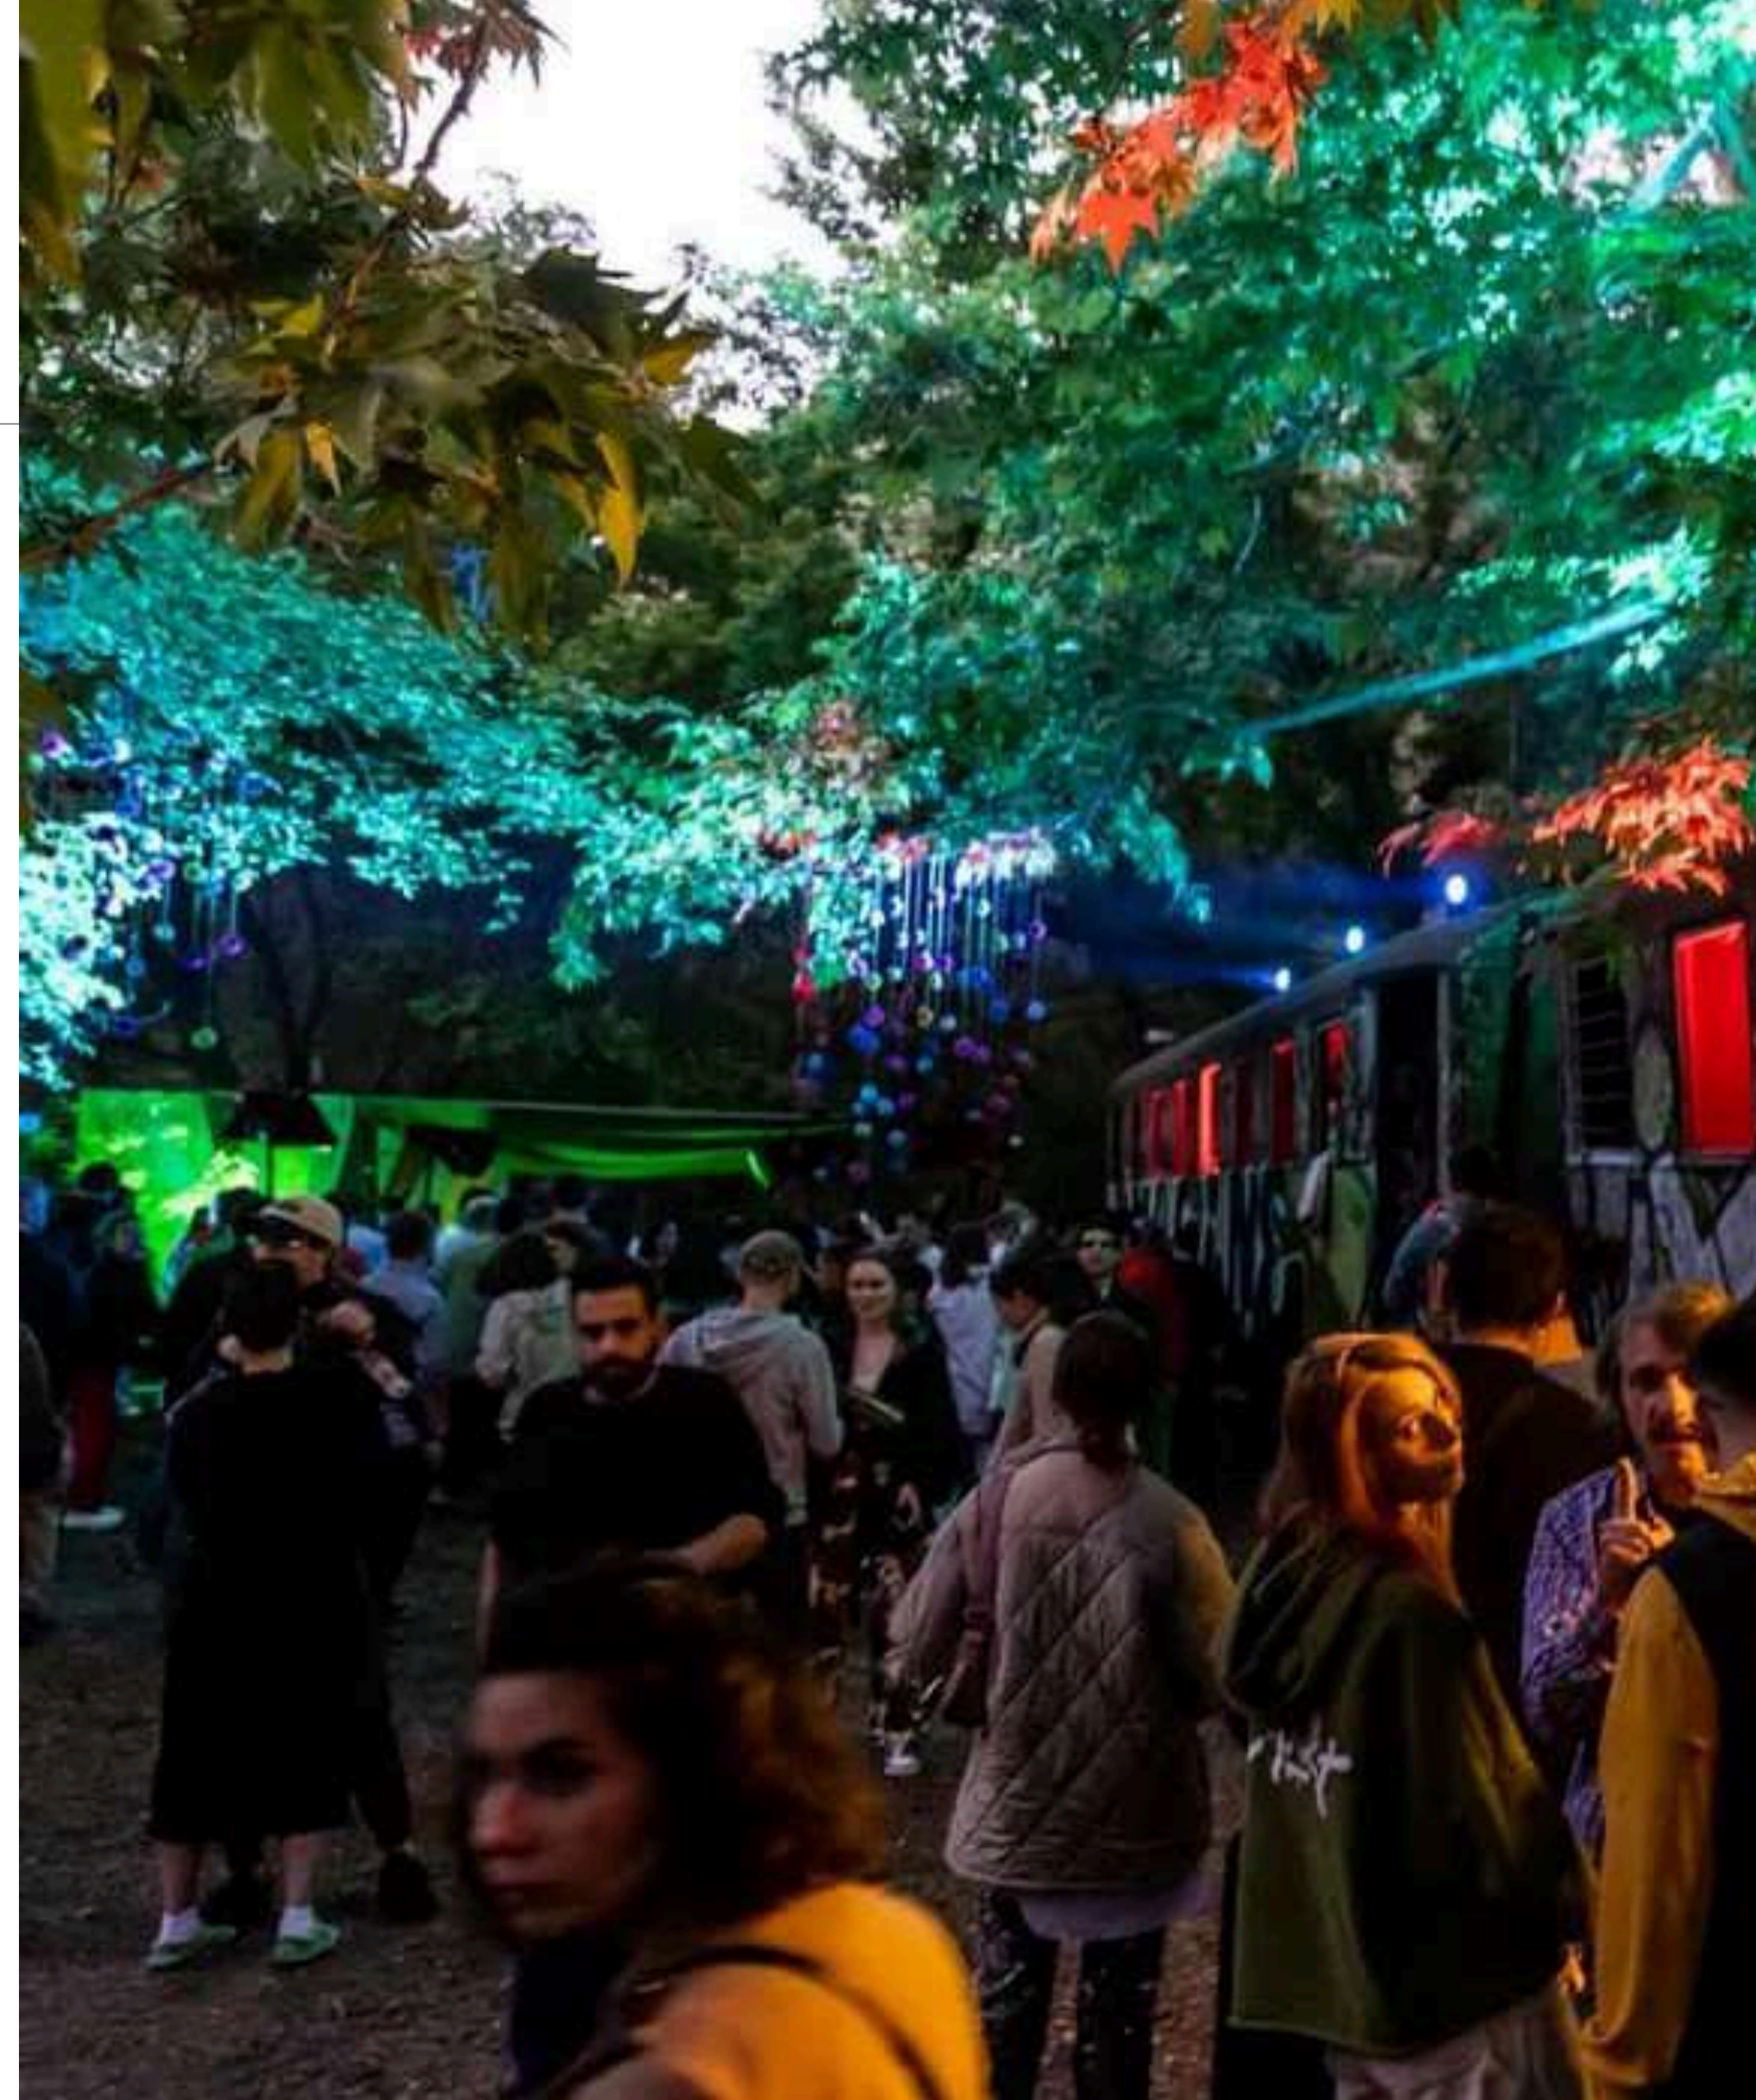

Financial Accounting: Maintaining a budget and applying financial strategies to optimise profits and the financial success of the project.

My goal was to ensure that each event was successful, on time, on quality and on time, as well as generating revenue for the MOCT project.

MOCT Antar 2023

-Project Manager

Anatar was a unique project that combined a minimal-techno music event with the unforgettable atmosphere of a children's railway. Famous artists from all over the world performed at the event, creating a unique sound and energy that will be remembered for a long time.

As part of the Antar project, my work included I coordinated staff to ensure a safe environment at all areas of the event.

As the event was held outdoors, ensuring the safety of all participants was an important part of my job.

The Antar Project had several activity areas including the bar, food court, dance floor, and entrance area. My job was to ensure that all of these points worked cohesively to provide the best experience for attendees.

I negotiated with the main sponsor to secure support and funding for the project, which played a key role in its success. Each event was prepared individually and I was responsible for the technical part of the preparation, including sound and lighting equipment to create an unforgettable atmosphere.

My contribution to the Antar project was to ensure that all elements of the event worked in harmony so that each visitor could enjoy the unique and safe experience that the project provided.

Project FLYONE

- Project Manager
- Creative Manager

Curating the design project for Fly One's headquarters was my job. I collaborated with the artist to create a unique design that expresses the company's corporate culture and impresses visitors.

I supervised the design project of Fly One's head office, in which I collaborated with the artist. As a result of our joint work, we combined our creative forces and created a design that not only reflects the company's corporate culture, but also inspires and impresses visitors. My responsibilities also included coordinating all technical and organisational aspects of the project. I made sure that the artist worked on time and reached their full potential. In addition, I liaised with the client, coordinating sketches and making necessary changes to ensure that their needs and expectations were met. In the end, our work resulted in a unique atmosphere in the company's office that not only emphasises its personality, but also creates an inspiring environment for everyone who visits the office. This project was a great example of joint creativity and successful realisation of ideas.

Next Spot

-Project Manager

The concept revolves around a seamless integration of street and contemporary art. It aims to create a space for experimentation and interaction among various styles, forms, and techniques to unlock new dimensions of creativity. By uniting artists from different countries and cultures, NEXT SPOT inspires and connects talented individuals from all corners of the world. Bringing urban spaces to life through street and contemporary art, it materializes the artist's unique ideas and emotions. Our specialization lies in crafting picturesque murals, street installations, and art objects that transform mundane places into extraordinary art corners.

The Next Spot project was a creative initiative that aimed to foster a culture of drawing and creativity. I organised and coordinated a variety of events to support and develop the artistic community. This included art meetings, masterclasses and creative sessions.

I was responsible for planning and running art festivals where artists could showcase their skills and inspire others.

An important part of my job was to create and organise exhibitions where artists' works could be presented to the public and art lovers.

My job was to create a platform for artists to express their talents and inspire others.

First Legal Painting Wall

-Project Manager

The "First Wall for Drawing" project was launched in Yerevan city with the aim of creating a legal place for artists where they can freely express their creative potential, without violating city rules and laws.

The First Legal Wall project was created and realised by me in record time. In this initiative, I combined many aspects to create a unique place for artists and art lovers:

Approval of Permits: I worked with the authorities to obtain the necessary permits to create a legal wall for painting.

Finding Sponsors: To secure the supply of paints and resources, I negotiated sponsorship agreements that allowed the project to become a reality.

Over 15 artists were brought together in one location where they created amazing artwork over three days.

At the moment, the "First Legal Wall" remains the only place in Yerevan city where artists can freely create and express their creativity. This place has become popular among both aspiring artists and anyone who appreciates art. This project serves as a perfect example of how determination and creativity can transform the urban environment and inspire creativity.
